Web Developer Position

CKO Digital

Paid Internship

Part-Time

Full-Time (also available)

POSITION OVERVIEW

We at CKO Digital are a branding, web development, and marketing firm here in Houston. We are currently growing and in need of an entry level web developer. This position is a paid internship that can also count as school credit if applicable.

POSITION DUTIES

The person filling this role will be in constant communication with the different teams here at CKO. However, this position will primarily work with the Graphic Design team to create websites that are both visually interesting, and easy to navigate. This role is responsible for coding, and modifying websites, from layout to function. This position will also work directly with clients to achieve their desired goals.

MUST BE SKILLED IN

- Wireframing/laying out a website or web application
- Writing HTML and CSS from scratch
- Taking a psd or pdf and turn it into a working website
- Managing a domain's DNS settings
- Deploying a website to a website host

BONUS IF SKILLED IN

- Adding interactivity to a website with JavaScript (or jQuery)
- Writing a basic application in an object-oriented programming language like Ruby or Python or PHP
- Working with CMS platforms such as WordPress
- Being familiar with LAMP

SOFT SKILLS

- Ability to work in a team setting
- Ability to communicate ideas to both team members and clients
- Self manage a personal schedule to meet deadlines

SCHEDULE AND PAY

This is a paid part-time internship. Full-time is also available, depending on the applicant's availability. If applying for part-time the expected weekly schedule would be around 15-20 hours per week. Pay rate would start at $8/per hour.
